AHMC FORGES AGREEMENT WITH SAYALI LLC TO DEVELOP AND MANAGE THE AMERICAN HOSPITAL TBILISI IN THE REPUBLIC OF GEORGIA

WASHINGTON, D.C. – June 25, 2014- American Hospital Management Company (AHMC) and Sayali LLC, officially commence the first phase of the American Hospital Tbilisi (AHT) project today in Tbilisi, Republic of Georgia. The agreement with local stakeholders and promoters in Georgia to develop a new hospital in the capital city was signed in mid-March, 2014. The new facility will be developed on privatized land where the former government hospital, Traumatology and Maternity Hospital #2, once stood. Representatives of American Hospital Tbilisi were in Washington, DC at the end of April to meet with AHMC CEO, Randall Arlett, and Regional Vice President, Greg Kuntz, to finalize plans for the project. Mr. Arlett then accompanied the AHT team to Panama City, Panama to tour Hospital National; AHMC's first Network Facility.

The vision for the American Hospital Tbilisi project will include 80 beds, advanced imaging and diagnostic services, outpatient physician clinics, and dialysis care. In addition, AHT will focus efforts on developing highly specialized Cardiac and Neurosurgical service lines. The development of the additional service lines will be well received in the market as access to care in these specialties is not currently readily available in the Republic of Georgia.

“The American Hospital Tbilisi will be AHMC’s first greenfield hospital project in Eastern Europe. We are honored to collaborate with our local partners in the development and management of this new world-class. AHMC will leverage its global experience in bringing world-class hospitals to market with a focus on enhancing the local community’s access to specialized healthcare services and a focus on quality and patient safety. The new hospital will meet international standards of care and intends to build on the hospital's legacy by offering services for which it has historically been highly regarded. In addition, we will also plan to develop new specialties based on the perceived needs of the local and regional communities," Ralph Foster announced.
