FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

AHMC ANNOUNCES THE ADDITION OF CORPORATE CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER, DR. ASH EWIDA.

Washington, DC – January 14, 2015- American Hospital Management Company (AHMC) announces today the addition of Corporate Chief Medical Officer, Ash Ewida M.D., to the AHMC Executive Team. Dr. Ewida will work closely with the AHMC quality teams deployed at network facilities, along with the Washington DC based executives, to formulate a team of professionals who will build bridges at each site. The bridges will overcome all cultural barriers and bring physicians, nurses, pharmacists, technicians, and supporting staff together to provide world-class patient care. He also plans to set up a quality management program and peer-review process to improve patient safety and outcome.

Dr. Ash Ewida is an American Board Certified anesthesiologist and a diplomat of American Board of Medical Subspecialties. He graduated from Mansoura University School of Medicine in Egypt in 1992 and holds a Master's of Science in Microbiology and Immunology from Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia, PA. Dr. Ewida attended Boston University and Albert Einstein College of Medicine/Montefiore Medical Center, Bronx, New York for his post Graduate Anesthesiology training. Dr. Ewida has practiced in both private and academic environments for 15 years. His experience includes leading his clinical department and entire hospital to develop a structured program for performance improvement, patient safety, and peer-review.

"I am honored to join in with AHMC and its dedicated staff. The journey of my tenure with AHMC goes back to 2006 when I approached Randall Arlett, CEO, about my intention to build a healthcare network in Morocco & Egypt," stated Dr. Ewida. "Since then I have gotten to know almost all of the AHMC staff at the company's corporate headquarters in Washington DC. Randall and I have grown to know each other on a personal level. We share the vision of extending American knowledge and expertise in healthcare across the globe to benefit all mankind. I am humbled by the responsibility and looking forward to reinforcing AHMC's position as a leader in the delivery of excellent, effective, and safe healthcare around the world," he added.
